Vol. X, No. 1

Quiet Session of City Trustees

Every seat at the council table of the board of city trustees—there are five—was occupied last Tuesday night at the regular monthly meeting. Inside the rail, handing out advice and suggestions, also sat City Attorney Argyll Campbell. For the first time in months there were vacant seats in spectators' section.

The outstanding business of the rather quiet session was the filing, by Arthur T. Shand with City Clerk Saidee Van Brower, of a protest on the passage of the city zoning ordinance and a petition, numerously signed, asking for a referendum election on the matter. The board set next Tuesday night for consideration and action. Mention the city's name.

The aforesaid protest and petition is as follows:

To the Board of Trustees of Carmel-by-the-Sea, a Municipal Corporation of the State of California:

Gentlemen:

We, the undersigned duly registered and qualified electors of Carmel-by-the-Sea, and constituting more than 25 per cent of the entire vote cast at the last preceding general municipal election, held in said Carmel-by-the-Sea, hereby protest against the passage of Ordinance No. 55, entitled "An Ordinance establishing zones in the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, regulating the use of property therein, fixing set-back lines and providing penalties for the violation hereof," passed and adopted by you, January 22, 1924, and respectfully request that you reconsider such ordinance and repeal the same, and in the event that said ordinance be not repealed by you, then that said ordinance be submitted to a referendum of the qualified electors of said Carmel-by-the-Sea either at the coming regular municipal election or at a special election to be called for the purpose.

Miss Lavina R. Lichtenthaler called the attention of the board to the alleged action of storm water on Dolores and Lincoln streets, and requested some remedy. Charles O. Gould took issue with Miss Lichtenthaler's statements as to recent property damage. The matter was referred to the street commissioner.

A motion was adopted appointing Trustees Parkes and Maxwell to prepare and purchase such printed matter and stationery as is needed to put into effect the recently adopted business license ordinance.

The chairman of the board was authorized to employ an accountant to expert the books of the treasurer, clerk and marshal.

A resolution to accept certain streets on behalf of the city was presented by Perry Newberry and unanimously adopted.

Arts and Crafts Club Forest Theatre Merger

With the transfer of the property and the members of the Forest Theatre organization to the Carmel Club of Arts and Crafts, now under way, completed, the amalgamation of the two pioneer organizations will be consummated.

The articles of consolidation provide that all Forest Theatre affairs shall be administered by a separate board of directors, elected at the annual meeting of the Arts and Crafts, who will be known as directors of the Forest theatre.

These directors may or may not be directors of the Arts and Crafts. It will be their province to supervise and attend to the two or more annual productions at the Forest Theatre, which will always be known as Forest Theatre plays.

Birthday of America's Most-Loved President

MORE firmly, more permanently, more lovingly, as the years go by is the memory of Abraham Lincoln enshrined in the hearts of the American people; indeed, of the whole world.

Next Tuesday, February 12, is the anniversary of the birth of the child who was born in a rude log cabin amidst squalor and poverty, in the wilds of Kentucky.

His mother (Nancy Hanks) taught him to read, and his stepmother urged him to further effort. This, with one year's schooling and half a dozen books he was fortunate enough to obtain, formed the basis of his career.

As to his learning, he had no illustrations.

When he became President he realized how little his previous course of life had done to fit him for his position, and to what a storm of hate and malignity he exposed himself, and yet he never flinched.

He was never guilty of the smallest pretense of affectation. He never attempted to conceal the fact that he was a learner, but he learned with a rapidity and retained with a tenacity which astounded those who thought they had nothing but a backwoodsman to deal with.

Lincoln's whole career is a doctrine itself, the doctrine of American democracy. His life is a sermon which is to preach to us that wherein human success truly consists, and his hallowed memory is to be a perennial inspiration to develop our possibilities and especially to revere the function of the man of politics of whom we have recently been inoculated with so much contempt—the man of politics in American life. His name is a synonym of American democracy. He himself was the best truth on which the nation rests—upon the confidence in the masses of the people.

Famous Duncan Dancers Booked for Monterey Peninsula

Thanks to the courage and enterprise of the Peninsula Philharmonic Society, one of the world's best-loved attractions will come to Monterey on Tuesday, February 19, at the High School auditorium, when the famous Isadora Duncan Dancers—Anna, Lisa and Margo—will appear.

No dancing attraction in the country—including the marvellous Pavlova—has excelled this beautiful trio in artistry. In all parts of the world these young women have won the distinction of belonging to the very finest artists in the world, and their programs have been praised by the leading critics in every musical center.

In their two New York recitals, in Carnegie Hall this season, crowded houses greeted the young dancers. With standing-room selling at a premium, students of dancing from every studio in the metropolis turned out in full force to see one of the most beautiful programs ever given in New York. A substantial portion of this program will be given in Monterey.

Max Rabinowitch, the brilliant young Russian who will appear with the Duncan Dancers as accompanist and solo pianist, was introduced to the music-lovers of America by the great Chaliapin, who brought him especially from Riga to take part in his program. The association of this artist with the Duncan Dancers is a particularly happy one, his insight into the numbers he interprets for the dancers being marvellously sympathetic.

No lover of music and its visualization in the dance can afford to miss this noteworthy event.

The office of the city clerk was closed all day yesterday. Miss Saidee Van Brower was at the county clerk's office in Salinas verifying the signatures on the referendum petition.

Zoning as Seen by Local Official

By Perry Newberry

The zoning ordinance is your insurance that the dwelling house you have built, or intend to build, will never be smothered by hotel, apartment, bungalow court or tenement; or by neighborhood store or factory. If you came to Carmel for a home, then the most important promise that legislation can give you has been made the city's law.

The zoning ordinance is your guarantee of a future from Pescadero Canon to Cooke's Cove, unspoiled by concessions, unhampered by the front-yards of hotels, or the courts of crowded apartments. If you know any of the fast-growing beach cities of California you can comprehend the value of this promise made into law.

The beach belongs, not to the transient hotel-goers, the merry-go-rounders, the hot-dog peddlers, but to the residents of Carmel; a strip of white sand, the sea in front, the dunes and cliffs behind. If you came to Carmel for the luxury of a beach, then this ordinance is the promise of the future safety of your beach.

The zoning ordinance guarantees to the business men of Carmel the future growth of the city by home-builders; for home-builders will come with the assurance of the retention of Carmel's beauty and the open beach; and home-builders mean the continued prosperity of the town. Not transients; not tourists; but the well-to-do family who rents or owns a home. The zoning ordinance is the strongest denial of the fear that Carmel's beauty is passing into utilitarianism.

The zoning ordinance provides a compact business section able to support the needs of a city of 20,000 people; provides a district of 25 blocks in which hotels and apartment houses may be constructed; and provides that those who want to live beside hotels or next to business houses may do so; but it says that the man who wants his home among residences may purchase land with the assurance that no business, hotel or apartment house will be allowed in his neighborhood.

The zoning ordinance is the fair-and-square way of treating not only the town's residents and property-owners, but its future residents and business men. No one has as yet paid hotel-property prices for land outside the zone, no matter what their intent was in purchasing the property. Nor has the land decreased in value since the purchase. And future purchasers of land, by looking at this law, can tell exactly whether they purchase residence, hotel or business property.

The zoning ordinance provides that houses will not be crowded too closely together, or pushed against the street line, or built tightly to the property side-lines; and that garages will be set back so that the doors will not open over the sidewalks, or drip their eaves on another's land; most important to the city's future. In fact, the zoning ordinance points the way to a future growth of Carmel-by-the-Sea in exact accordance with the desires, as expressed at the polls in 1922, of a great majority of the voters of the city.

January 31, 1924.

Ernest Haskell, well known in Carmel as an etcher, and the friend of many people living here, is in San Francisco. He is planning to stay in California for a month or more and expects to pay a visit in Monterey and Carmel. He is in San Francisco with Mr. Dunthorne of London, who is exhibiting at the Print Rooms, until February 16, the finest etchings by the great masters of this art which have ever been shown in California.

The annual report of City Clerk Saidee Van Brower, published in this issue, is in condensed form. A detailed report is on file for public inspection.

City Zoning Catechism

Questions asked by citizens regarding the zoning ordinance are here answered by the City Planning Commission and the City Attorney.

Question—How does zoning effect the value of real estate?

Answer—It increases the value of business property because it limits the number of lots available for business purposes. It increases the value of residence property because it gives assurance to the buyer that his neighborhood will be secured against undesirable buildings.

Question—How does zoning effect the interest of the business man?

Answer—It protects the man already established, no matter where he is located, and restricts only the man who establishes a business here in the future.

Question—If these zones are established now, can they be modified later?

Answer—Yes, they can be amended in any way by a majority vote of the citizens, providing existing vested rights are not interfered with.

Question—Why should the hotel zone be established?

Answer—They are actually too large for the present time; the City Planning Commission is planning for future growth. But even with future growth in mind it desires to keep these zones always subordinate to the residential zone, as it believes the people wish this to be a residential, not a commercial, city.

Question—What is the objection to extending the hotel zone to the beach?

Answer—The City Planning Commission believes that the sentiment of the people, as shown at the last city election and by the purchase of the sand dunes, to be in favor of preserving the beach and against making this a beach resort town.

Question—Is this zoning ordinance a new thing?

Answer—About fifty cities and towns in California have zoning ordinances. Thirty-two states have passed laws authorizing the establishment of zoning ordinances in all their cities and towns.

ALFRED E. BURTON, President.
SUSAN PORTER, Secretary.

I am of the opinion that the foregoing replies are a proper interpretation of the zoning ordinance.

ANGELL CAMPBELL, City Attorney.

Give Them Food— Get Them Acquainted

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Carmel Church entertained the men of the congregation on Wednesday evening. The affair was given for the purpose of getting the men acquainted and an enjoyable affair it proved to be. Over forty invitations were issued. J. W. Hand, B. J. Adams of Duluth and Mr. Morey of New York were among those who responded to the call of toastmaster Dr. E. A. Sturge for short talks.

A short program of music given by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence was followed by an interesting illustrated talk on coast erosion by G. F. Beardsley. It took in the section from Pebble Beach to Carmel Highlands.

It is hoped to have other social gatherings now that the church has a convenient kitchen and a parlor.

to thank those who responded so generously in money and food for the dinner.

Last Wednesday G. Ross McKee and wife sailed from San Francisco for Honolulu, where they will spend a fortnight before leaving for Nipon.

Income Tax Regulations

Collector of Internal Revenue John McLaughlin is advising the income tax payers in the making out of their returns for the year 1923.

McLaughlin points out that taxpayers of every class—business men, professional men, salaried persons, wage earners and farmers—should present to themselves the following questions, and in turn answer them honestly:

Did you receive any interest from bank deposits?

Have you any property on which you receive rent?

Did you receive any income in the form of dividends or interest from stocks and bonds?

Did you receive any bonuses during the year?

Did you make any profits on sale of stocks, etc.?

Did you act as broker in any transaction for which you received a commission?

Are you interested in any partnership or other firm from which you receive income?

Have you any income from royalties or patents?

Have you any minor children who are working?

Have you the control of the earnings must be included in the parents' return of income.

Has your wife any income from any source whatsoever? If so, it must be included in your return or reported in a separate return of income.

Did you receive any director's fee or trustee's fees in the course of the year?

Did you hold any office in a benefit society from which you received an income?

Answers to these questions are necessary in the filing of a correct income tax return, according to the collector.

If single, or married and not living with husband or wife, and the net income was $1000 or more or the gross income was more than $5000, and if married and living with wife or husband, and the couple's net income was $2000 or more or the gross income $5000 or more, a return is required.

The fact that the income may not be taxed by reason of the personal exemption—namely $1000 for all single persons, and $2500 for married persons whose net income was $5000 or less—and $200 for married persons whose net income was in excess of $5000, plus the $400 credit for each dependent does not in any way alter the requirements of this law.

All persons who come under the above class of taxpayers must file a return on or before March 15, 1924—the last day of the filing period.

Persons whose net income was less than $5000 and derived from salary or wages, should ask for form 1040A.

Those whose net income was in excess of $5000, or, regardless of the amount, which was derived from business, profession or farming should ask for form 1040.

A Construction Program

To Insure Good Service

IN ADDITION to the extensions required by growing communities, we have planned a costly construction program for 1924 for the purpose of making our service in all respects more satisfactory to our customers.

Among the improvements to be made are the following:

- 1—Construction of a second transmission line to perfect service on the Monterey Peninsula.
- 2—Installation of automatic voltage regulators at all principal substations.
- 3—Doubling water supply facilities of Salinas by construction of new 200,000 gallon steel tank, with steel tower, and providing an additional well and pump.
- 4—Installation of duplicate gas manufacturing equipment at Monterey, adding 30,000 cubic feet to daily capacity.
- 5—Purchase and maintenance of all transformers heretofore supplied by customers.

During the construction of these service improvements the difficulties of rendering good service will be much increased. We hope that you will not chit-cise us for such imperfections as may occur in spite of our best efforts to prevent them.

WEST SHIPS RECORD FREIGHT TONNAGE OVER S. P. LINES

Traffic Handled Without Congestion By Increased Railroad Efficiency

LOADING INDICATES WESTERN PROSPERITY

Cars Loaded in 1923 Would Make Train 8,600 Miles Long; Would Encircle United States

Western shippers loaded 1,050,908 cars of freight on Southern Pacific's Pacific System lines in 1923, an increase of almost 200,000 cars over the loading for 1922, which was 851,942 cars.

The 1923 loading, according to J. H. Dyer, general manager of the company, was the heaviest in the history of the company.

If all the freight cars loaded on the company's Pacific System in 1923 were coupled up with the locomotives necessary to move them and with a proportionate number of cabooses, they would make a train 8,600 miles in length—long enough to extend around the United States from Portland, Oregon, through Chicago, Buffalo, New York, Washington, New Orleans, Los Angeles, San Francisco and back to Portland, with about 400 miles of cars left over.

The figures cited give some idea of the prosperity and productiveness of the western states, for these cars were loaded in the states of Oregon, California, Nevada, Utah, Arizona and New Mexico. The size of the imaginary train also gives an idea of the enormous task performed by the Southern Pacific Company in handling this traffic, which was moved quickly and efficiently, without congestion or general car shortage.

Southern Pacific, as one of the leading railroad systems of the country, has had a consistently good record in operating efficiency, extending over a period of years, but despite this fact, Southern Pacific's 1923 performance in heavy car loading, in obtaining a high daily mileage of freight cars, and in keeping locomotives and cars in repair, was uniformly better than in previous years.

Campaign Planned

When it became apparent that 1923 would be a year of unusually heavy traffic, the railroads joined in a campaign to speed up transportation. They set definite high standards of operating efficiency as a goal for the individual roads to reach. These standards were: 30 tons of freight per car loaded; 30 miles per car per day; 85 per cent of locomotives in serviceable condition and not requiring heavy repairs by October 1, the start of the season of heaviest traffic; and 95 per cent of freight cars in serviceable condition, by October 1.

Southern Pacific bettered these standards in every instance except in the average carload, and its performance in this respect was a remarkably good one and not to be measured by the goal set for all the railroads, because of Southern Pacific's large tonnage of light loading, perishable products, a full car of which averages about fourteen tons.

The average tonnage per car loaded in 1923 was 21.5 tons which was an increase of seven tenths of a ton over the excellent record made in 1922.

The company made its freight cars travel twelve miles farther each day than the goal set for the railroads as a whole, getting an average daily

Distinguished Actor Will Read Tonight

All is in readiness for tonight's Frederick Warde party at Pine Inn. The affair will undoubtedly be one of the best that John Jordan has given. Mr. Warde will arrive here from Los Angeles at noon today and rest from the journey in the afternoon. He will remain the guest of the Inn over the week.

The tables will be set up and no one will be allowed in after the party starts, as it is to be a dinner first, then the Julius Caesar reading, followed by a dance.

The tickets include all three, so that reservations must be made by 5 o'clock today. There are a limited number of seats.

The proceeds will be donated to the Carmel Club of Arts and Crafts.

Rising Interest in Coming City Election

The large registration of voters in Carmel this year may be accounted for in various ways. In the first place, this is a presidential year; secondly, increased population; thirdly, election of city trustees and other officials in April, and fourth, intense interest in the recently adopted zoning ordinance, which is the motif for a referendum.

Those mentioned as candidates for city trustee are: Herman A. Spoehr, Ray C. DeVoe, Henry P. Larouette, John B. Jordan, Thomas L. Edler, H. W. Askew, Charles H. Yates, John Douglas, Perry Newberry, George M. Dorwart, Fenton P. Foster.

For city clerk the incumbent, Miss Saidee Van Brower, has no opposition.

L. S. Slevin, present city treasurer, will not be a candidate for re-election. Barnett J. Segal, cashier of the local bank, has been suggested for the place.

Every candidate for local office must file with the city clerk nomination papers between Feb. 14 and March 25.

mileage per car of forty-two miles. In one month, an average of 47.3 miles per car per day was obtained. The average for 1922 was 36.8 miles.

Equipment in Repair

Southern Pacific, during 1923, averaged 88.5 per cent for the number of locomotives in serviceable condition and not needing heavy repairs as compared with a percentage of 86.5 in 1922. In only one month did the company have less than 85 per cent of its locomotives in serviceable condition, the goal set by the railroads as a whole for October 1. In only three months did the company have less than 85 per cent of freight cars in serviceable condition, the national goal by October 1. The average for the year was 95.4 per cent as compared with 93.65 per cent in 1922.

Another improvement in performance was in the gross locomotive load, which averaged 3 per cent better in 1923 than in 1922. This means that each locomotive was made to haul a heavier load.

While there was a shortage of refrigerator cars during the peak of the grape shipping season, it did not approach in extent the shortage of 1922 and did not appear until a greater tonnage of grapes had been shipped up to that time than in any previous year.

The same effort for increased efficiency is being made in 1924, according to Southern Pacific officials, and improvements and additions are being steadily made over the system. More equipment, including new locomotives and cars of the finest design, are being received, and more are being ordered.

HIS WORKS WILL LIVE

The whole nation is mourning the death of Woodrow Wilson, twenty-eighth President of the United States. The passing took place in the quiet of last Sabbath morning.

Woodrow Wilson was great in war. He was great in his efforts for peace. He would not compromise. He held his ideals inviolate to the very end.

The greatest tribute to Wilson will come when the opponents of his plan for the abolition of war shall place upon the statute books a large measure of his peace proposals.

One of the finest tributes paid to the dead executive is that by an uncompromising political opponent. United States Senator Hiram W. Johnson said:

"All Americans are deeply shocked and all alike grieve at the death of former President Wilson. He was able, firm and courageous. Whether we agreed or disagreed with his views, his unstinted and whole-hearted devotion to them won the respect and admiration of all. He was not only as our chief executive, a commanding personality, but in his time was a great world figure. History will write him as one of the outstanding characters of his era."

America's Work for Peace Should Not Be Maligned

It appears to be the consistent policy of advocates for larger American participation in European politics to belittle everything the United States has done and is doing. Such a one wrote to Senator Lodge, baldly laying down the declaration that this country had done nothing for peace.

Replying, the senator retorted:

The Washington conference which brought about an agreement that checked the competition in naval armaments.

The arrangement by which the Anglo-Japanese treaty, a constant threat to peace in the Pacific, was thrown into the discard.

The arrangement by which the province of Shantung was returned to China by Japan.

The virtual settlement through our good offices of a long-standing provocation to war between Peru and Chile.

The smoothing out of differences with Mexico, settling not merely old disputes, but also making new disputes improbable.

"My own policy or theory," says Senator Lodge, "is that the United States can be of more service to the cause of world peace by acting independently."

Whether that is a good policy for the future or not, it has worked excellently since the armistice, for no country, no alliance, no league, has done as much for peace in the last four years as has the United States.

No other country has been able to make suggestions which are not treated with suspicion or mockery by other nations. Our independence of action has a demonstrated value. It is not to be thrown lightly aside.

Before the policy is changed we must be sure that the new policy of complete participation is going to be worthy in a practical way, not simply as a means for providing the participationists with a feeling of victory.

Americans of earnestness and patriotism need not be the least ashamed of the labors their country has performed for peace. If they be ashamed about anything, it should be for those citizens who continually cry and lament and complain that the United States has done nothing.

Gray on the French and German Theatre

Professor Henry D. Gray continues his splendid lectures on the drama, in San Jose, under the auspices of the university women of that city. Recently he took up the German and French schools.

Two places are crowded in Germany today—the graveyards and the theatres," Dr. Gray declared when he incisively sketched the picture of the massive and significant drama in that country in the third of his lectures on the contemporary theatre. Whereas the theatre audiences in post-war France, England and America flock to the light farce or tawdry and salacious comedy given them by the "theatre trusts," such plays were declared by the Stanford critic to be failures in Germany, where the people have reacted from the war to serious plays, only more serious than their present plight.

Partly due to the serious German temperament, this strange condition was explained by Dr. Gray by the fact that drama has always been the most vital art form in Germany, while in fiction and poetry they are weaker than other nations like England, Russia and France.

Unfavorable conditions in the modern French theatre and the consequent lack of dramatists with truly modern viewpoints writing for it were outlined with delicious penetration in the second lecture.

"The theatres of Paris are controlled by trusts even worse than those controlling the New York stage, throttling as they do any play that has even a hint of true idealism," said Dr. Gray. The blame was laid by him on the modern theatre audience, brutally successful, interested only in monetary success on the stage as in life, appealed to only by the primary passion or a cheap idealism. For this theatre Bernstein was the most successful and worthwhile writer in France, in such plays as his "The Thief."

Forecasting A Tremendous Spring Demand

more Ford cars and trucks were produced last year than the previous year, an increase of over 50 per cent.

In spite of this tremendous increase in production, it was impossible to meet delivery requirements during the spring and summer months when orders for 350,000 Ford Cars and Trucks could not be filled.

This year winter buying for immediate delivery has been more active than ever before—and in addition 200,000 orders have already been booked through the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan for spring delivery.

These facts clearly indicate that the demand during this spring and summer will be far greater than ever, and that orders should be placed immediately with Ford Dealers as a means of protection against delay in securing your Ford Car or Truck or Fordson Tractor.

A small deposit down, with easy payments of the balance arranged, or your enrollment under the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan, will put your order on the preferred list for spring delivery.

Week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leitch were Miss Ethel Higgins, Osborn Sterns, musical director from Seattle, Judge Warfield, Charles Warfield and Blanche Tolmie.

Mrs. Ira M. Remsen, who was here for a few days recently, announces that she and her husband, who are now living in Santa Barbara, will spend the summer months here.

Martin Flavin, business man-play-write, with his wife and four-weeks-old baby, has returned from Chicago. They are living in Monterey. In the summer they may occupy their beautiful Carmel Highlands residence.

The ownership of the auto stage line between Big Sur and Monterey is about to pass into the hands of F. M. Littlefield of Monterey. Permission has been granted George Farmer by the railroad commission to dispose of the property.

The attractive Skene residence just south of Carmel, looking toward the Carmel Valley, is nearly completed. M. J. Murphy, the builder, has added another to his long list of substantially constructed and originally designed dwellings.

Contractor John Black of this city, who is building Miss Ella Shaw's residence at Carmel Highlands, is making rapid progress on the job. The same contractor has just completed a small office for Miss Elizabeth M. White on Ocean avenue.

The second chapter of that wonderful book, "The Child and America's Future," will be read at 8 o'clock next Wednesday at the Carmel church by Mrs. J. E. Forsyth of Pacific Grove. So splendidly was the first chapter presented that a large attendance is assured.

An interesting visitor here a few days ago was Sophie Treadwell McGeehan, who has many local friends. Sophie had a prominent part in Mrs. Newberry's "The Toad" when it was played at our Forest Theater. Mrs. McGeehan and her mother will return shortly for quite a stay.

Down in Los Angeles Elsie Lincoln Benedict is in the midst of her first class which numbers 2500 persons. Thousands have been unable to obtain admission to the free lectures. Miss Lillian M. Merry in her letter to the Pine Cone does not state when Mrs. Benedict will return to her home at Carmel Highlands.

Last week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Kuster were Betty Merle Horst and Ruth Van Mattemore. For eight years the former has been associated with Ruth St. Denis as concert dancer and instructor at Denishawn. She will be in the faculty of the summer school of the Theater of the Golden Bough.

The Carmel Abalone baseball players, co-eds 'n everything, went into action last Sunday on Carmel Woods diamond. Ford's Favorites and Van Riper's favorites put up a good game before a large crowd. Ford's gang knocked off the persimmon, 13 to 10. The winning battery was Gottfried and Hale, the losers Schweninger and Van Riper. There will be a game tomorrow.

STRANDED in the middle of the desert

It is said that opportunity knocks once at every man's door, but were there a means of knowing we would possibly hear his knock every day of our lives. Our great difficulty is in recognizing his knock when we hear it. Let's cultivate a bank account so we will be prepared to share what he has to offer when we're sure it is him knocking.

We used to hear a lot about being stranded in the middle of a desert. In the days of slow transportation it was a serious matter. Miles from food or water meant intense suffering. But it is no longer a serious matter. Not half so serious as being overwhelmed with pressing obligations and with no means of meeting them. The man with a bank account is independent of this embarrassing situation.

Choose Your Bank

Choose a bank in which you have the utmost confidence. Choose a bank of long standing and with sufficient resources to meet the demands of the community. Then make up your mind to carry an ever growing bank account; an account, though small at the beginning, will grow as the years go by.

Fine Entertainment for Peninsula People

The group of public-spirited music-lovers who, under the name Artists' Concert Series last year brought several eminent artists to the peninsula, have for this season arranged for three of the world's finest attractions, selecting them with greatest care from the list of famous artists to visit San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Notice of the first event, the performance of the Duncan Dancers, is given elsewhere in this issue. The other two attractions, with their dates, are the noted Cherniavsky Trio, on Thursday, March 20, and Ossip Grabrilowitch, famous pianist-conductor-composer, on Friday, April 25.

Notwithstanding the great expense of bringing these artists here the price at which the season ticket is offered, five dollars, enables residents of the peninsula to enjoy them at a cost less than that at the larger centers of population. Single admissions, as usual, will be higher in proportion. Season tickets will be on sale in limited number. Subscriptions should be sent in at once, with remittance, to the Peninsula Philharmonic Society, Box 41, Monterey.

Corrects Wrong Impression

In contradiction to advertising during the past week stating that I am about to leave Carmel, I am anxious to ~~here it known that I have no such~~ intention and shall continue residing here. I was also wholly unaware that such a statement would be included in advertising my recent concert, particularly since there are no grounds upon which such assertion could be made.

U. of C. Authorizes Summer Courses Here

Carmel is certainly coming into its own. Announcement is made that the University of California extension division have authorized a summer school here, to be held during the coming mid-summer.

The sessions, which will be held in the new Theater of the Golden Bough, the use of which has been donated by Edward G. Kuster, U. C. 1900, will include courses in sociology, physiology, scenario writing, short-story writing and allied arts.

At the same time the School of the Theater of the Golden Bough will function, with Maurice Browne as director and a staff which will include a number of eminent instructors.

Detailed announcement will appear in the next issue of the Pine Cone.

One of MacMonnies' Best

The McClellan statue in Washington is located on Connecticut avenue, at the junction of Columbia road, about a mile northward from the White House. It was unveiled May 2, 1907, with President Roosevelt officiating. It was the occasion of the thirty-seventh annual reunion of the Society of the Army of the Potomac. The society raised $11,000 toward the cost of the statue and Congress appropriated $50,000.

The sculptor was Frederick MacMonnies. The bronze group is 14 feet high. It was modeled and cast in Paris. The weight of the statue, pedestal and foundation is 650 tons. Nearly 300 pieces of granite were used in the pedestal, which contains eight bronze escutcheons two feet square.

Who Is Ulug Beg?

Says "W. P. D." in the Peninsula Herald:

"A distinguished member of the Carmel literary colony, veiling himself under the nom de guerre of 'Autolytus,' has just published a long, satirical poem under the name of Ulug Beg. (After A. Knopf, New York.)

"This poem is a curious mixture of cynicism, mysticism, wit and humor. It suggests Byron's 'Don Juan,' Owen Meredith's 'Lucille,' Milton's 'Comus' and 'The Young Visitors.' The author's style is a blend of Kipling, Stevenson, Sir Richard Burton and James Joyce.

"It is well worth reading, as much for what is left unsaid, as for what is said. The writer evidently sympathizes more with Woodrow Wilson, who made the world safe for democracy, than with the revival of aristocracy that is now sweeping the world. A book to be read."

Wilson's Best Seller

The Cosmopolitan Book Corporation reports that H. L. Wilson's "Oh, Doctor!" is the best seller in twenty years.

It is asserted that Rufus Billop, the leading character in the new book, has it all over Merton, Ruggles, Ma Pettengil and Bunker Bean for popularity, and that 50,000 copies of the book have been sold.

Prefers to Teach

Percy Marks, author of "The Plastic Age," is now an instructor in English at Brown University. Born in a small mountain town of California—Covelo, Mendocino County—he was educated at the University of California and at Harvard. He has had some varied experience in teaching, and tried writing in New York for a while, not without success. However, he decided that he "liked teaching about five thousand times as well as writing," and returned to instruction in English, which has always been his subject. He wrote this novel of college life (it is his first book) when once more in and of the life he describes. It is his particular desire that it should be made clear that the college of the story represents no particular existing college.

Scrappy Sculptors

The design for the proposed navy memorial to be erected in Washington has aroused a sculptors' controversy in New York. The design was submitted by Ernesto Begni del Piatti, a young Italian sculptor, and shows sea gulls in flight over the waves. It has been approved by the committee, which includes Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., and Mrs. Edwin Denby. Augustus Lukeman, New York sculptor, complains that sea gulls are scavengers of the sea and should not be used to symbolize the navy. The American eagle would seem to be the appropriate bird—if a bird must be used.

All Should Hear This Wonderful Story

Mrs. French Sheldon, who will lecture for Arts and Crafts members and their friends next Monday evening, has had a career such as fate grants to only one woman in a generation.

It is over thirty years now since General Francis A. Watson, head of Boston Tech, taught her how to shoot in preparation for her first adventuring into unknown Africa. This woman, a solitary Anglo-Saxon, led her own expedition, a force of 500 natives, from Zanzibar to Kilimanjaro. It was as fruit of this journey that she wrote her book, From Sultan to Sultan, and was made Fellow of the Royal Geographical Society, the first woman to receive that distinction.

Expedition followed expedition, until she knew certain parts of Africa as perhaps no one else has ever known them. Political conditions of the Congo, the life of various tribes, their religious, rites, music, psychology, she had the opportunity to study at first hand, led by the divine gift of an insatiable interest.

The club is extraordinarily fortunate in its chance to hear from her own lips the story of her early experiences, told in a manner all her own.

Recently the Kegg-Goldsmith marionettes played before the Burlingame Country Club, the Alameda Parent-Teachers' Association, Berkeley High School, Chinese Mission and Y. W. C. A.
